

The right to get your personal information erased

1

YOU WRITE TO THE ORGANISATION:

Let them know you want your personal information erased

2

YOUR INFORMATION CAN BE ERASED WHEN:

1. It's no longer required for the original purpose(s)
2. You withdraw your consent
3. You object to it being used for public functions, legitimate interests or direct marketing
4. Your information has been processed unlawfully
5. It legally has to be erased
6. It's from a child under 13, who can't give valid consent

N.B. Organisations must take reasonable steps to ensure those they've shared your information with also erase it

3

YOUR INFORMATION CAN'T BE ERASED IF IT'S:

1. Exercising freedom of expression
2. A legal or official authority requirement
3. A public health interest
4. For archiving or research
5. Needed to defend legal claims

FIND OUT MORE
www.jerseyoic.org